RAMSEY HILL ASSOCIATION

ABOUT THE RAMSEY HILL ASSOCIATION

The Ramsey Hill Association (RHA) was formed in 1972 to support the neighborhoods in building community, historic preservation, and crime awareness control. It has grown to encompass much more.

The Ramsey hill area is bounded by Grand and Pleasant Avenues to the south, Dale Street to the west, I-94 to the north and Summit Avenue to the east.

ASSOCIATION BENEFITS INCLUDE:

★ Advocating and supporting historic preservation;

★ Connecting with your neighbors and the RHA community;

★ Funding local non-profit organizations to our mission of caring for our neighbors;

★ Caring and tending to our parks and gardens;

★ Getting involved in RHA activities, such as:

- House Tours (pandemic-pending status currently)
- The Legendary Progressive Dinner every Spring
- The Annual Holiday Party/Holiday lighting in the parks
- Fundraisers for RHA and other local nonprofit organizations
- Winter Restaurant Nights
- Monthly neighborhood walkabouts
- Attend plays and concerts as a group

★ Connecting with area businesses, knowing what they offer and being a customer

★ Being informed on what's happening in Ramsey Hill through the monthly newsletter, crime reports, emails, etc.

SUMMIT-SELBY NEIGHBORHOOD

This area has long been a meeting place of people and ideas. In the 1850s two major overland routes converged just a few blocks from here. By the 1880s the district was a bustling residential area for both the wealthy and the immigrant. Today the neighborhood is a mix of Victorian mansions and modest dwellings, shops, schools, and places of worship--where people of many cultural and ethnic backgrounds dwell together. Famous names associated with the Historic Hill District include writers F. Scott and Zelda Fitzgerald, Sinclair Lewis, August Wilson, and Garrison Keillor; railroad and lumber barons James J. Hill and Frederick Weyerhaeuser; and Archbishop John Ireland.
